

SIMON AGUS, MBA, EA

Simon Agus is an accomplished accountant and IRS Enrolled Agent with more than 30 years of progressive experience in accounting, taxation, and business advisory services. He possesses extensive expertise across all phases of accounting, including financial reporting, internal control policies and procedures, regulatory compliance, and business process improvement.

Throughout his career, he has provided trusted advice to individuals, businesses, and organizations on matters of accounting information systems, bookkeeping, tax preparation, tax planning, IRS representation, tax compliance, and strategic business consulting. His practice emphasizes accuracy, efficiency, and long-term financial stability for clients.

In addition to his professional practice, he serves as an adjunct faculty member in the Business Department at San Carlos Apache College, where he teaches and mentors students pursuing careers in business and finance. He holds the Teaching Online Certificate (TOC) from Quality Matters, a nationally recognized credential that underscores his commitment to excellence in online education. This certification reflects his advanced skills in designing and facilitating high-quality, engaging, and pedagogically sound online and blended learning environments in higher education. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Accountancy and a Master of Business Administration (MBA), further strengthening his ability to integrate technical expertise with practical business management insight.

Outside of his professional and academic commitments, he finds joy in sharing his faith and living it out daily with his family and community. He enjoys spending time outdoors with his family, bookworm, and staying active at the gym. Above all, he treasures quality time with his wife, three daughters, and their dog, Sparky.
